

TrinityScholar and EnvisionPrep are now one great company.

7/19/2018

Trinity Scholar and EnvisionPrep have announced a merger between the two companies. The newly merged company aims to deliver a higher level of service and professionalism to the test prep and study abroad market in Taiwan. Going forward, the company will operate under the corporate name of Trinity Scholar.

EnvisionPrep has been the leading admission consultant in Taiwan to Top 100 universities in the U.S., serving students from the international schools since 1996, e.g. Taipei American School, Taipei European School, Morrison Academy in Taichung; leading bilingual programs such as FuXing bilingual high school; and leading local high schools such as Chien-Kuo Senior High School and Taipei First Girl's high school. In addition to counseling students to gain admissions to Ivy League schools and leading public schools, e.g. UC Berkeley, UCLA, University of Michigan, etc., in the U.S., EnvisionPrep helps dozens of students gain admissions to boarding schools and highly competitive summer camps in the U.S.

Founded in 1992, Trinity Scholar was originally known as the Princeton Review Taiwan, and is now the exclusive Kaplan Test license holder in Taiwan. For over the past twenty years, the company has been the leading SAT, ACT and TOEFL provider to the expat and international school community.

Beginning in July 2018, the newly merged company will operate as one and provide one-stop shopping for any student looking to study abroad. Trinity Scholar will continue to power the test preparation and tutoring business which cover all the essential tests and subjects across K-12 grade levels. EnvisionPrep is the admissions counseling arm of the new company, advising students on their college, graduate and boarding school applications.

When all is said and done, the merged entity's test prep offerings will include AP, IB, SAT, SAT Subject Tests, ISEE, SSAT, TOEFL, IELTS, GRE, GMAT, and LSAT. Interested parties will have a wide variety of classroom formats, ranging from groups to private tutoring and self-paced guidance.

Admissions counseling assists students in applying for the school of their dreams, whether it be high school, undergraduate, summer, post-graduate, or a study abroad program. Included in the services are mock interviews and essay editing, though the specifics of each program are tailored to the a lá carte needs of each participating student.

The merged company will also provide greater convenience. The main campus will be Trinity Scholar's premise at Zhongxiao Dunhua MRT Station. EnvisionPrep's former classroom at Taipei 101 will be used to host custom classes, private tutoring and self-paced learning. In addition, the newly merged school is also launching home tutoring, where the tutors will travel to the student's residence.
